

Awning Systems

Sunrise

The Sunrise lateral arm awning is available in projections up to 13'1", with no width restrictions. It maintains a steel square bar and roller tube. The triple cable, spring-loaded arms offer the strength needed for longevity. The tilting arms close completely and offer outstanding fabric protection, while simultaneously activating the automatic wind-lock. The system carries a 10-year warranty and can be sold with or without a hood in three frame colors. Over 200 fabric choices are available. Mounting options include wall, soffit, or roof.

Little-Big

Where conventional awnings stop, the Little-Big starts. This awning has all the features of the Sunrise, but with crossing arms allowing units to be made with less width than projection. It is now possible to install a full-size awning even in the most limited spaces. The system carries a 10-year warranty and can be sold with or without a hood in three frame colors. Over 200 fabric choices are available. Mounting options include wall, soffit, or roof.

Toga

Providing ultimate fabric protection, this cassette awning system has the roller tube encased in a clamshell of aluminum. When fully retracted, the fabric is surrounded with only the valance remaining exposed. It carries all the features of the Sunrise and is available in widths up to 23'. The system also carries a 10-year warranty and is best used for roof-mounting applications. It is available in three frame colors with over 200 fabric choices. Mounting options include wall, soffit, or roof.

Toga/Little-Big

This awning is a combination of the cassette awning and the crossing arm system, available in widths from 4' to 14'. The system also carries a 10-year warranty and is best used for roof-mounting applications. It is available in four three colors with over 200 fabric options. Mounting options include wall, soffit, or roof.

Retractable Drop

A retractable drop is a vertical extension of the fabric cover at the front of the awning. It allows the fabric to be lowered from the front bar using a simple gear mechanism. This makes it possible to curtail horizontal sun and provide privacy. Retractable drops may be used on any awning up to 19' in width. On larger widths, the projection must be 10' or less. Drops of 4' are available in acrylic fabric or mesh. Drops of 6' are available in acrylic fabric only.
